WHAT DIFFERENTIATES US?

The most important difference is that, at SNG, we offer our associate members objectivity and corporate substance that goes far beyond the mere negotiation and facilitation of international venture capital funding, industry specific corporate advisory services as well as viable business and project opportunities.

SNG provides its associate members with potential access to international corporate resources and professional associations that are pivotal to any business' success and sustainability.

The relationship between SNG and its associate members is one of mutual benefit. SNG provides associate members indirect access (use value) into its global intellectual infrastructure that enables them to turn business and project opportunities into successful and sustainable business entities. In turn, the associate members provide the Group with valuable and extensive industry specific corporate advisory services. SNG's success is a direct result of its corporate concept which brings together international venture capital funding, industry specific corporate advisory services as well as viable business and project opportunities in a unique and dynamic way.

We believe a specific project must be linked to a specific funder and to industry specific corporate advisory services in order to succeed. It is this unique business model, structure and strategic planning abilities of SNG that effectively turn development opportunities into profitable and sustainable business entities.
